

THANK YOU VERY MUCH!

It does not cost anything, and how many times the Herald receives this pleasant acknowledgement from its readers and strangers coming to Portsmouth. Chief Census Supervisor Mitchell of New Hampshire has thanked the Herald again and again for its action in bringing the matter of the census to his attention. Hundreds of names have been added and more are located every day. It is great to serve the people. The next and most important step is to "Dig Out." Portsmouth should prepare for a busy spring.

GERMAN GOV'T OVERTHROWN

FRANCE WILL IGNORE WILSON'S ATTACK

R. f se to Instruct French Ambassador

Paris, March 13.—The French government has not and will not send any instructions to Ambassador Jusserand in Washington regarding President Wilson's charge of militarism against France, it was said at the foreign office this morning. A report received from the ambassador stated that on his own initiative he called upon Under Secretary of State Polk and told him of the surprise and emotion caused in France by the President's letter. The ambassador added that he had made no representations. No official comment was obtainable in official circles with the exception of expressions of curiosity as to whether President Wilson would take the opportunity afforded by Mr. Jusserand's call on Secretary Polk to correct the disagreeable impression his assertion has made here.

NEW YORK LONGSHOREMEN ON STRIKE

(By Associated Press)
New York, March 13.—Countless slipping was at a standstill here today when longshoremen, dock workers and checkers went on strike to enforce demands for an increase in wages and adjustment of working hours. The strike was voted unanimously by the strikers' organization last night. The companies so far have made no effort to employ strike breakers.

Serious Situation in Berlin--Troops Assist in Revolution--Suspect Hindenburg Wants to Succeed Ebert

(By Associated Press)
London, March 13.—A proclamation was issued in Berlin this morning at 10.30 stating the German government had ceased to exist according to a Reuter's despatch from the German capital received here. Revolting troops entered Berlin this morning and occupied the Wilhelmstrasse, the despatch declared. No acts of violence are reported.

Paris, (Havas) March 13.—A proclamation issued in Berlin today declares that the government of the empire has ceased to exist and that the power of the state has passed into the hands of the general director, Von Kapp, who becomes chancellor and has appointed General Von Luttwitz commander in chief of the military forces. Berlin despatches state. The proclamation declares the national assembly dissolved. It is announced that a new government is being formed. The Socialist parties have declared a general strike the despatches add. The issuance of the proclamation followed the occupation of the Wilhelmstrasse where the government buildings are situated, by troops who had returned from the battle and had been in barracks in the suburbs. The troops entered Berlin this morning it is stated.

Verden-front. When the German treaty came up for action by the government last June, Von Luttwitz was one of the leaders of the military party prominent in opposition to the peace terms. He has an American wife who was Miss Mary E. Cary of Cleveland. He always has been classed as thoroughly Prussian.

Berlin, March 13.—General Von Luttwitz, commander of the first Reichswehr brigade has been summarily removed from his post by Gustav Noske, minister of defense and units of military organizations in Berlin are held in their barracks ready for instant orders as the result of alleged discovery of a reactionary plot here today. Official bulletins declare the "plot" had planned to move on Berlin and with the aid of the garrison overthrow the government. Among those said to be involved are C. T. Pabst and Dr. Von Kapp, pan-German propagandists. Both were formerly identified with the brigade commanded by General Von Luttwitz and were prominent here during the early revolutionary period. Troops recently returned from the battle states are also said to have been implicated in the alleged conspiracy. Direct inquiry in official quarters has failed to bring any information beyond a statement that the government was warranted in the light of the attitude of the pan-German press to suspect a monarchist plot and impression prevails tonight, therefore, that the government exaggerated the critical nature of the situation and took seriously indefinite rumors which have been current here for the past week. It is the general belief the fact of the Kaiser's abdication, the announced presidential candidacy of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, the attack on allied officers and other incidents contributed to make the Cabinet nervous over the situation.

NOTE—The names associated with the new revolutionary movement in Germany indicate its reactionary character. It would appear therefore, that Germany is in the throes of the long expected and frequently counter-revolutionary monarchist struggle. Dr. Von Kapp reported as having assumed the chancellorship. It seems probable is Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the former conservative member of the Reichstag and general director of the German Agricultural Society. He was one of the deputies who early in 1918 urged the government to speed up the U-boat building program. He became president of the German Fatherland Party, the notorious pan-German organization which urged that Germany carry on the war to the bitter end. After the abdication of Emperor Wilhelm and the signing of the Armistice, Dr. Kapp was one of the men for whose arrest the independent socialist clamored on the ground that he and his associates had been responsible for the continuation of the war and the hindering of peace.

Major Gen. Baron von Luttwitz, who, according to the despatches has been named commander-in-chief, was military governor of Belgium for a period in the early days of the war. He later was a commander on the Verden-front. When the German treaty came up for action by the government last June, Von Luttwitz was one of the leaders of the military party prominent in opposition to the peace terms. He has an American wife who was Miss Mary E. Cary of Cleveland. He always has been classed as thoroughly Prussian.

Berlin, March 13.—President Ebert and his wife left Berlin at 6 o'clock this morning.

THE LATEST FROM BERLIN

Berlin, March 13.—The overthrow of the Ebert government was announced in a proclamation issued at 10 o'clock this morning after revolting troops from the suburbs had entered Berlin and occupied the Wilhelmstrasse. Up to that hour the movement had proved a peaceful one, no disorder developing. The proclamation declared that the entire authority of the state has passed into the hands of "General Provincial Director Kapp as Imperial Chancellor and Premier of Prussia. The proclamation issued over the signature of Imperial Chancellor Kapp says that the mandate of the National Assembly to create a constitution and conclude peace has expired and it declares the National Assembly dissolved. It adds, "As soon as internal order has been restored we shall return to constitutional conditions and prescribe new elections."

It was announced that Gen. Baron Von Luttwitz had been appointed commander in chief of the military forces by the Chancellor and that a new government "of order, freedom and action" was being formed. At 10 o'clock the city was still preserving for the moment its usual aspect. Parades, taxicabs and street cars were in movement as though nothing had happened. There was no change in the appearance of Ulster-den Linden except for the presence of a considerable body of troops at the Brandenburg gate, the Alton Hotel and the corner of Ulster-den Linden and the Wilhelmstrasse. The proclamation appeared at this corner at 10 o'clock in the morning. A mounted soldier fully armed and helmeted rode up and handed the proclamation to a small group of people. They looked around him while the document was read. The proclamation later was read on street corners in various parts of the city. The troops which made the descent upon Berlin included troops which had recently returned from the battle provinces. The threat of their movement developed at midnight. When it became known that they were advancing, the semi-official agency states, Gen. Von Oldershausen began negotiations with the Naval Brigade who formed part of the contingent. The demands made by the brigade were discussed by the Cabinet which sat until the early morning. The demands were subsequently rejected and the troops entered Berlin and proceeded to the occupation of the Wilhelmstrasse. The agency also announced the calling of a general strike by the Social Democratic party. (The Majority Socialists, the dominant party which had supported the Ebert government and of which President Ebert the Premier and the Foreign Minister are members.)

STARVATION THREATENS CITIZENS OF FIUME

Situation in Seized Territory Becomes Critical

(By Associated Press)
Fiume, March 13.—Famine seems to be near in this city. No food has been brought in during the last three weeks and Italian naval units convey all the merchant vessels so that further supplies by the D'Annunzio forces are impossible. As a consequence there is much suffering among the poor and food prices are enormous. There is no coal in the city and horses have been driven out to graze on the hills nearby. There being no feed for them here. There have been rumors that Captain D'Annunzio's forces would attack Croatia in an effort to obtain supplies.

AMERICAN NAVY SOON WILL BE BE QUEEN OF SEAS

Ten Great Superdreadnoughts Building, With Six Battle Cruisers and 10 Scout Cruisers—Great Ocean Submarine Fleet, Will Include Hundreds of Destroyers.

The superdreadnought Maryland was launched today at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. When completed she will be the most powerful warship in the world.

The Maryland is the first of four ships of her class to be launched and is one of the ten superdreadnoughts authorized in the first three-year building program adopted in 1916. With a length of 624 feet over all, a beam of 87 feet and full load displacement of 32,930 tons, she is the largest fighting craft built for the American navy.

Originally designed to carry 12 14-inch rifles, the plans for the ship were changed during the war, that she will have instead eight 16-inch guns, the first of the superdreadnoughts on a ship.

They will be placed two each in four turrets on the center line, two forward and two aft. They will be larger by one inch than the great guns on the British ships of the Queen Elizabeth class which were used in the bombardment of the Dardanelles.

Battleships designed since the Maryland were laid down, however, will be even more powerful. They will carry 12 16-inch rifles, and will measure 684 feet over all, with a displacement of 43,200 tons. Their speed will be 23 knots, as against the 21 knots of the Maryland and practically all classes of American dreadnoughts.

The Maryland's keel was laid on April 24, 1917, eighteen days after the United States declared war on Germany. Work on her was delayed by reason of the need in getting out destroyers to fight submarines, but it has been rushed since the armistice and the vessel is now nearly three quarters completed. She will be electrically driven by four propellers, the power of which will be furnished by turbines of approximately 19,000 horsepower. Steam will be furnished by eight oil-burning boilers.

These ten mammoth ships combined with the 17 dreadnoughts already in commission, will put the United States practically on an equal footing with the British navy, the only possible rival in power in regard to fleet tonnage.

In addition the United States is now building six battle cruisers, the superior of anything afloat, including the new British ship, the Hood, which is the only one of her kind. They will mount eight 16-inch guns, are 600 feet long, have a displacement of 10,000 tons, and a speed of 30 knots.

A distinguished mark of these battle cruisers will be their armor. They have been named after famous fighting ships of the old navy, as follows: Constellation, Constitution, Lexington, Saratoga, Ranger and United States.

The ten battleships under construction are named, as usual after states. Those of the Maryland class will be the Colorado, Washington and West Virginia.

The big new 12,000 ton boats will be named the South Dakota, Indiana, Montana, North Carolina, Iowa and Massachusetts. All these names were borne by discarded battleships or armored cruisers resumed or lost.

Secretary Daniels does not propose to stop here, however. There appeared in the news from Washington recently word that he proposed another 3-year peace program if the peace treaty is killed, a 60-ship program if it is delayed, and enough vessels to round out the fleet if it is nullified.

Besides the six battle cruisers the United States also is building thirteen fast cruisers of the scout type, of 1100 tons displacement and speed in excess of 35 knots, to be armed with a main battery of eight 6-inch guns. These vessels will serve as the eyes of the fleet, in advance of the battle cruiser and dreadnought lines.

The United States is on "velvet" in regard to destroyers. It will have about three hundred when construction stops, which is declared to be quite sufficient for the needs of the fleet.

Most of these destroyers are of "war construction" and embody the latest ideas in destroyer design. They are what are called "flush deckers," but there is no cutting away of the deck line aft of the foremast, as in the older destroyers which served so well against the German submarines overseas.

These destroyers are larger than is customary in foreign navies, of the type the British call "moderns." They average up to 1740 tons displacement, which is nearly as large as the British light cruisers, running from 2600 to 3600 tons.

And they can beat anything afloat in speed. The American destroyer showed that it could do that during the war. It is said that in no case did an American destroyer fail to pass a British fleet of greater estimated speed in the friendly rivalry of the war on the high seas.

Another advantage American destroyers have in common with all American war vessels, from the necessities of the defense of our coast line, is their ability to keep at sea because of a large fuel supply. Their radius of action even the American submarines, for many thousands of miles, surpassing that of practically all vessels of all other navies.

Little has ever been given out concerning America's submarine fleet, but data given by "Jane's Fighting Ships" the world's great naval statistics volume, indicates what the United States is doing.

It has over sixty new boats of the ocean going type, which must offer some have been compared with the best the Germans had to offer and have been found superior in every detail, including speed and fighting power.

In addition there are about one hundred submarines of the coast defense type known to be in commission and perfectly satisfactory for the purpose for which they were intended.

The only other national rival of the United States in the matter of the fighting fleet, it is therefore interesting to note that the Japanese, who have an elaborate building program have to offer.

The Japanese program to be completed in 1924, includes two battle cruisers, three scout cruisers of about 7000 tons, 21 destroyers, 18 submarines and six special service ships.

The Japanese are also building two superdreadnoughts of 33,000 tons, about which little is known. In comparison they have five dreadnoughts, the largest of 31,180 tons and mounting a dozen 14-inch guns after the English model, and two battle cruisers mounting eight 14-inch guns. The United States has nothing in commission at present of the same class.

As a matter of fact, however, the American Pacific fleet recently formed, is far superior in battle strength to the entire Japanese navy.

The French navy has eight or a dozen dreadnoughts, the latest of which, a class of five, has a unique mounting of the main battery of 13-inch guns. There are three turrets on each ship, each turret holding four guns. The United States has limited its turret mountings to three guns, like the Italians, who set the example in this style.

The Argentine and Brazilian navies are interesting to Americans as possible allies in case of foreign attack on the Americas. They offer no mean assistance to any fleet.

The Argentine boats, two dreadnoughts of 23,000 tons, mounting a dozen 12-inch guns, both of them built in American yards and designed by Rear Admiral Fawcett, retired, formerly naval constructor of the U. S. navy.

Brazil has two superdreadnoughts also, of practically the same size and power built by the English firm of Vickers.

And lastly the Greek navy would look familiar to Americans, with its two battleships, formerly the Italian and Mississippi of the American navy. They were purchased just before the World War and served to scare off the Turks from an attack on the Greek nation.

BROADWAY BANDITS HOLD CROWD AT BAY

Break Jewelry Window, and Empty Trays; Make Their Escape and Later Rob Another Store.

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 12.—While Broadway was crowded with throngs of people tonight, three armed bandits smashed the plate glass window of a jewelry store on 57th street, kept the crowd at bay with their revolvers and at the same time emptied several trays of jewelry into their pockets and made their escape, shooting one man who attempted to stop them. Later the three men entered another jewelry store, a few blocks away, threw pepper into the face of the clerk and grabbed several trays. Two men alleged to be of the trio were later arrested by the police after a chase.

NEWCASTLE

New Castle, March 13.—All those who were privileged to attend the Missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Becker on Westworth Ave. Wednesday afternoon, given under the auspices of the King's Daughters, were delighted with the literary program presented. Mrs. Charles Trethorn Jr. called the meeting to order by that dear old hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." Mrs. Gladys Barker, spiritual lesson found in 1st Corinthians 15th chapter after which Mrs. Trethorn gave a most interesting and interesting talk on the subject, "The American Mountaineer; their crude way of living, having traveled all through these regions, picturing the athletic side of the fends which still exist and the glorious work that is being done in weeding it out. She reviewed the tremendous vicarious efforts of Sgt. York during the World War and because of his great executive ability to win out with the Indians. Rev. Dr. Hanson allowed with a concise description of their wild ambition to obtain an education and how "Mediant" College, Danvers, Cal., had such a bright spot in their oasis of life, that there is no better in America and no class of people in America have a poorer chance. The pastor's interesting remarks were carefully noted. The following sketch was then given:

Leaven On Nasty Creek
Time—The present; mid June; mid afternoon.
Place—Nasty Creek in the Blue Ridge.
Mrs. Hanson gave first aid to the imagination. In order that you may understand and appreciate the scenery and since setting of the following sketch we will ask you to use the open glasses of your imagination, and by thoughtfully following our directions you will see before you in scene typical of our southern mountains. First, kindly focus your glasses on the immediate foreground. You see a cabin of brown weather-stained logs. The chairs are filled with clay. The two rough stone, outside chimneys indicate that there are two stoves. Almost covering the cabin is a rampantly growing grape vine, arding because of their awkwardness, you see windows where, there windows were not. Connected with the cabin by a covered porch, called the dog. Trot, carefully observe a frame addition also glaring in a newness. Note the several windows at which simple white curtains are in the lazy breeze. An air of coziness pervades the place, turning our glasses to the left you see a flock of laurel underneath the fragrant pines which spread in never-ending green over hills and mountains. To your right is Nasty Creek, only after heavy rains, but now murmuring only, gurgles happily long over stones and fallen logs between its banks of blooming rhododendron, Galax and ferns attend in way. That gullied, half-washed track of red in sand. It feeds the hollow waters of the creek, makes the cabin and down the hill is fast in frequent turnings. Behind the cabin you see the wooded slopes of the near-by hills, and if you will kindly adjust the focus of your lenses to the distance you will see on every side of you mountains whose blue peaks lift themselves to touch the lightly drifting clouds. You hear no sound save the cheery call of the Carolina wren, the cardinal in the laurel thicket warbling to his mate, and above and through all the gentle murmur of water.

Seated in the (thoughtful) doorway is Mrs. Joseph Hayston engaged in the fascinating diversion of looking old rags to weave into rugs to sell to the tourist women for a mere pittance. The neighborly call by Mrs. Fred Noyes and the "Shore Acre" talk which she gave dovetailed into the situation to a nicely. They were gowned in old time style and added much to the success of the sketch by their droll sayings.

LODGE OFFERS SUBSTITUTE FOR ARTICLE TEN

Willing to Make a Compromise But It Has Beclouded the Peace Treaty Fight.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 12.—A substitute for the Republican Article X. Reservation to the Peace Treaty was introduced in the Senate today by the Republican leader, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. In general it follows the form of the draft agreed on several days ago in by-partisan compromise negotiations. When the reservation was offered, it was declared among the Republicans that the negotiations had lined up almost enough votes to ratify the treaty on that basis, but that agreement had not yet been reached. The Republican leader planned to obtain a vote late today.

On the floor renewed discussion of a compromise centered about questions of political expediency. Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, one of the irreconcilable opponents of ratification, declaring that if the treaty became a campaign issue it would cleave both of the great parties "at right angles."

No action was taken on the reservation. The democrat remaining silent while the different factions of the Republicans debated the resolutions. The result is then to prolong the final clear up of the treaty as it is more beclouded that before and party leaders have revised their prediction as to the time for the vote. It was hoped to get a roll call today, but Monday or Tuesday is the earliest that it can be expected.

ROOSEVELT DISBANDED THE VICE SQUAD

Capt. Wainwright Testified That After He Had Investigated Its Working, Mr. Roosevelt Acted.

(By Associated Press)

Newport, R. I., March 12.—Captain John D. Wainwright U. S. N., testifying before the Naval Board of Inquiry here today, told of an investigation he had made of the vice squad work in behalf of the Bureau of Navigation. He said that Capt. R. H. Leigh assistant chief of the Bureau had told him to find out how the squad was working. He reported to the Bureau that a squad consisting of one commissioned officer, a supply officer and thirteen enlisted men, had their headquarters in New York and that they operated in Newport, New York, Boston, New London, Providence, Fall River and other places. He found that instructions had been given the men in writing and orally, those regarding perversion orally reported that the members of the squad performed the work voluntarily none had objected. All were men of perfect naval records.

He had reported to the Bureau and he matter had been gone over with Asst. Secretary Roosevelt, who after reading the report ordered the work of the squad stopped.

Judge Advocate Hyneman asked if he had found that the operators had been instructed in any of the nameless places as charged by the Ministers in their letter to the President. He said that one of the men said that he had explained to him and he did not like its general nature but was doing it for the good of the service. Asked if men of the squad had been instructed to entrap certain individuals he said that he had said he had instructions to trap certain men and another said shadow and the third to watch, but none had used the expression entrap.

COUNTRY FAR SHORT OF TEACHERS

Washington, March 12.—The country is faced with a serious shortage of school teachers, chiefly through failure to provide adequate salaries, according to report to the United States Bureau of Education. Conditions are becoming slightly better, however, the report states, in some sections, compared with those of last October, when the National Educational Association conducted an inquiry into the situation.

Based on returns from State school officials, the reports show that on Feb. 13, last, there were 15,379 schools closed because of lack of teachers and 41,900 being taught by teachers characterized as "below standard" but taken on "temporarily in the emergency." Greater shortages are shown to exist in Southern States.

Responding to a questionnaire sent out by the commissioner of education, a great majority of the States in which schools are closed report that children are being transferred to other districts, while the remainder report pupils leaving the grade. To another question as to what extent taxpayers are interested themselves in paying better salaries for teachers, the response was almost unanimous for an increase.

Salaries paid teachers in 1918, statistics show, were on an average of $600 for elementary teachers and $1031 for those teaching in High Schools. From salary schedules collected from various States, giving salaries received by individual teachers in three counties in each State, it is shown that wages paid rural teachers fell far below the foregoing average in many States, many localities showing salaries as low as $150 and $200 a year.

In 190 State, County, City and private Normal Schools, representing 60 percent of the total Normal Schools in the country, there were 11,333 fewer students enrolled Nov. 1, 1919, than during the previous period. A similar falling off is shown in teacher-training departments show great increases in enrollment.

A. O. Neal of the Bureau's division of rural education said today there is an increasing withdrawal of men teachers from the profession, the percentage of male teachers in 1918 being only 17 percent or one in every six.

SUBMARINE FLOATED FROM HOG ISLAND

Buzzards Bay, March 12.—United States submarine No. 12 which grounded on Hog Island in upper Buzzards Bay, yesterday, floated off early today and resumed her course from Boston to Newport, R. I.

The sub left Boston at 8:40 yesterday morning for Newport. As she was passing through the canal in the afternoon she appeared to be having trouble, and at one point, near the Herring highway bridge, her hull seemed to rise suddenly, exposing more freeboard than usual. Capt. H. L. Colbeth and engineer, H. L. Dunbar, of the canal company sent out a boat and asked if the submarine was in any need of assistance, but their messengers were told that everything was well, and the sub continued through the canal. The submarine did not have a cast pilot on board.

After passing the railroad bridge at Buzzards Bay the sub appeared to have more trouble. She zigzagged and apparently was loath to mind her helm. As she approached Hog Island she apparently became unmanageable and ran up on the beach. The tide was falling and the tug Taylor tried to help her off into deep water, but was unsuccessful.

ENGLAND GIVES AUSTRALIA DESTROYER

London, March 12.—The British navy has just been taken over formally by the Australian High Command, Andrew Fisher, and is bound to arrive in Sydney on August Day, April 25. They are the "Taffee," "Succumb," "Tannamulla," "Stewart," "Anzac" and "Stordennan."

Mr. Fisher states that these new vessels all of which have left the British navy since the armistice, differ greatly in design, armament, maneuvering speed, and range from the destroyers already belonging to the Australian navy that if pitted against them not one of the earlier vessels could live for more than a minute or two.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

More Closet Space

No woman ever moved into a house unless it was one that she had planned herself, that had enough closet room. Because of this she has had to exercise her ingenuity over and over again to find space for all the family's belongings.

One very clever young girl who had been used to all the space that she wanted was absolutely nonplussed at first when she came to the city to take a position and found that there wasn't a sign of a closet in the early room that she was able to find in the neighborhood of her work.

She took a large square hat-box cover, cut off the edges, so she had only a cardboard square and covered it on both sides with cretonne like that she had bought for the overarmchair and bed-cover. Then she cut four strips of the cretonne as wide as the square and a yard and a half long and stitched them together along the joint edges. Then she overlaid the top of each strip to one of the three sides of the square, leaving the front strip so it could be opened like a door. Straps were sewed along the top and side of this strip, so it could be fastened to the other side and the free side of the square.

A second square of the cretonne cut the same size as the top was secured to the bottom so the dust couldn't get in. Now she had an oblong case of the cretonne, with a stiff top. She had a man put up a wooden rod on the wall in the corner at right angles. She made a hole in the back of her closet so this rod would project into it and hung it on a hook from the ceiling. Her dresses on hangers were put on to this rod, the front was snapped shut and her dresses were as well protected

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kan.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten-pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can."—Mrs. Eva E. Shay, Garnett, Kansas.

War Talk Not in Order.

While the attempt to ratify the Peace Treaty drags slowly and painfully on, it may yet be as well not to become unduly excited over the matter, as some men in high places appear to be in danger of doing.

Secretary Daniels has told the House Naval Committee that he will recommend a ship building program for next year larger than that proposed by the General Board if the Peace Treaty is not ratified at this session of Congress, adding that if this country finally rejects membership in the League of Nations he will feel impelled to recommend a three years' program of construction. Says Secretary Daniels: "We must have a League of Nations by which every nation will help preserve the peace of the world without competitive naval building, or we must have incomparably the biggest navy in the world." He declares that there is no middle ground.

And Representative Fuller of Massachusetts, is mightily disgusted with the way the work of ratification drags along, and agrees with Secretary Daniels that the country must be prepared to fight if it doesn't go into the League. He says: "Never had a nation a more golden opportunity to bestow the boon of peace upon the world than has come to the United States because of its moral influence and its vast resources. It has but to approve of the Covenant and stand forth as the most powerful champion of a new era for humanity, enlightenment and progress, and rumors of war will be instantly laid."

Without doubt there are thousands of men, in and out of public station, who feel on this subject very much as do Secretary Daniels and Congressman Fuller, with certain "reservations" regarding the necessity of immediate preparation for war if the United States should fail to ratify the Treaty. Will there not be a League of Nations, even if this country is not a member? If there is such a League and its mission is to preserve the peace of the world, why should it be necessary for the United States to proceed to arm to the teeth?

The wrangling over ratification has become tiresome and very trying to the patience, but in the estimation of this paper the situation affords no just basis for war talk. Under any circumstances the country must and will have an army and navy adequate to its needs, and even if it should remain out of the League—which there is little danger of its doing in spite of all the seersawing—there should be no call for, or necessity of, preparations for war. Some of the talk that is being indulged in does not comport well with the idea that one of the great aims of the World War was to end wars.

There is a widespread conviction that partisanship is playing its part in deferring the ratification of the Treaty, but there is also a general belief that ratification will finally be achieved in spite of all obstacles placed in the way.

In the meantime the less war talk the people hear the better they will feel. It is time for world peace, and the best way to secure and perpetuate it is to talk peace, and not war.

Reports from Chicago are to the effect that there is a great deal more food in storage there than there was a year ago, and certain officials are buzzing around in an effort to force it upon the market. If the people hadn't been fooled so many times this would be cheering news. A warehouse "bursting with sugar" has also been discovered in Boston, and still one needs a bursting pocketbook to provide himself with even a small quantity.

There are to be lively times in Boston if W. J. McCarthy, supervising federal prohibition agent, keeps his word. He says he is soon to begin raiding suspected saloons and houses without warrants, as the law authorizes him to do, and that, if necessary, he will "kick in the doors or batter down the windows to get at the stuff." Such forewarning should be of interest and value to "whom it may concern."

At this time of the year the street railway branch between North Hampton station and Little Boars Head may not cut much of a figure, but it is to be feared that it will be much missed after the rails are taken up next spring.

REED LEADING PARTY'S VOTE THROUGH STATE

Murchie Ticket Carries Every County Except Hillsborough—G. O. P. Results.

Concord, March 13.—A tabulation of the returns of the primary election of Tuesday at the office of the secretary of state, yesterday, from the towns which voted that day, gives the Murchie ticket a good lead, Eugene B. Reed of Manchester heading the poll with a lead of 1131 over Mayor Mose Verrette of Manchester, who headed the so-called "regular" ticket.

About 75 towns failed to vote and some of them are voting today, while others will vote on Tuesday of next week.

Verrette has apparently no chance of winning out over James P. Brennan of Peterborough, the low man on the Murchie combination, as he has a margin of 358 to overcome, and the country towns are strong for the Murchie big four.

The Murchie ticket carried every county in the state except Hillsborough.

In detail the vote stood: Eugene B. Reed of Manchester, 3091; Robert C. Murchie of Concord, 2807; Charles B. Tilton of Tilton, 2626; James P. Brennan of Peterborough, 2318.

Mose Verrette of Manchester, 1900; William H. Barry of Nashua, 1608; Charles R. Johnson of Andover, 1615; Albert W. Noone of Peterborough, 1375.

The Republican pledged-to-Wood ticket carried seven of the 10 counties losing out in Strafford, Carroll and Coos counties. Major Knox led the ticket by over 300 votes, Gov. Bartlett ran 600 behind Knox.

The vote in detail:

Frank Knox of Manchester, 7350; Fred W. Estabrook of Nashua, 7031; Charles G. Shedd of Keene, 6815; John H. Bartlett of Portsmouth, 6808; H. P. Worcester of Manchester, 5713; Merrill Shattuck of Lancaster, 5522; Fred N. Beckwith of Dover, 5512; Charles W. Tobey of Temple, 5218; William R. Clough of Tilton, 1823; John W. Fitcher of Nashua, 1057.

FIFTY YEARS AGO IN PORTSMOUTH

The naval appropriation bill reported to Congress on Monday, March 14, totals up $14,611,856. Among the items are $16,339 for the navy yard at Boston; $13,100 for that at Portsmouth; $13,900 each for the Washington and Philadelphia navy yards; and $14,500 for the Brooklyn yard. We presume the $13,100 for this yard is the amount for the payment of civil officers in the yards and docks department. The amount is nearly $3000 less than was asked for. The amount for material and for pay of mechanics and laborers is not stated.

We are having more real winter in March than the regular appointed winter months gave us. Thursday night's blowing storm left quite an amount of snow, much drifted and for the middle of March things do not look promising for an early spring.

The spring trade, it is hoped, will be good. Gold is lower than since 1892 and goods have tumbled. The poor retailers and the script tumbler out of their pockets and in return the necessities of life tumble into their homes. They know where to trade cheapest by consulting the advertisements of our enterprising merchants.

NAVY YARD NOTES TELLS WHAT WAS ACCOMPLISHED IN WASHINGTON

Standing of Teams

The following is the standing of the teams in the Navy Yard Basketball League:

Marine Barracks	0	1060
Bagle No. 2	3	1750
Huntington	1	750
Tridley	2	616 2-3
Bagle 46	2	000

Lock Up Critics

If Commander Osborne is forced out of the position he holds in the naval prison, it might be a good thing to put some of his critics in behind the bars for a while and meanwhile give them a taste of the old time style of doing things. They might see a "great light."—Dover Democrat.

Fell From Yard Arm

John Millet, an electrician at the Charlestown navy yard, was killed by a fall on Friday while working on the army tug, General Ord. He dropped from the yard arm to the deck.

Few Reminded

A few have been called in and their attention personally called to the order recently issued by the yard commandant relative to proper dress and saluting.

Going to Honolulu

Pay Clerk Harry Connor of this city, who was recently transferred from the naval prison to the west coast, has again been transferred to the U. S. S. Brooklyn and sails on Monday next from Mare Island to Honolulu.

Another Victory

The navy yard basketball team from Building 89 won the 12th game on Friday night in a lively contest at Kennelbank with the team of that town playing two ten and one fifteen minute period. The navy yard five played all around the Kennelbank team, supposed to be one of the strong out in York County. Crowley, Hennessy and Haudon scored for the navy yard and Vaddington, Young, Clark and Tomlinson for the home team.

The feature work is credited to Crowley and Hennessy at the visiting team and Vaddington for Kennelbank. The line-up—Building 89—Connor, Crowley, Hennessy, Butler, Remondin, Kennelbank—Young, Hicks, Vaddington, Clark, Prescott, Tomlinson.

Changes Coming

According to reports, some changes are on the way for officers at the local yard, which will affect the supply and industrial departments.

In Washington

Commander H. S. Howard of the construction corps has been called to Washington by the department. His mission is said to have something to do with the matter of fleet submarines.

Receiving Bouquets

The enlisted men who took part in the industrial show on Thursday evening are receiving much praise for the fine performance given at the evening room. The solo work of Henry W. Dyer was of high order.

Sunday Evening Services

The Sunday evening service in the yard auditorium will consist of an address by Chaplain Charlton with illustrated pictures with the following subjects: "David and Saul," "Memories," and "Jungle Joyride." Miss Ellen Bowden of Rittely will be the pianist and Albert Sprague soloist.

Munition Scrap

Thirty-five thousand pounds of munition scrap metal have arrived for the yard smelting plant from Providence.

Discharged by Order

Harvey D. Clark of Wiscasset, Me., attached to Bagle 55 has been ordered discharged by a special order from the Secretary of Navy.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Here is Something for the Doctors

Editor Herald:

From time to time there has been articles in different newspapers regarding the declining rate of native-born Americans. Is it any wonder when you consider the appalling expense it costs to have children. For example, how many young married couples can afford to pay out nearly one hundred dollars for the most wonderful gift in the world, namely, a baby. I am sure there are not many. If the doctors are not proffering in charging fifty dollars for a confinement case, then there are no proffers in this wide world. Two years ago I paid fifteen dollars, and if there is anybody in this city who can tell me through this paper why a confinement case should jump from $15 to $50 in two years, I should be glad to get the information.

In closing, I will say that it will be a long time before I will feel the necessity of a physician's service in such a manner. Childbirth should be encouraged, not discouraged.

Yours truly,

A HOUSEWIFE.

Expect Work From Washington if Boats Are Not Sold

Washington, March 6.—Fred N. Staten, representing the Naval Trades Council, who has just returned from Washington where he has been in the interest of work for the navy yard in conjunction with delegations from other yards, has the following to say regarding his mission: "We succeeded in getting the Lodge amendment for three million dollars past the senate. This item then went to the conferees who could not agree, so it was sent back to the senate and house for instructions with the result that the senate again voted in our favor and when it came up in the house last Saturday it caused an all day battle which was absolutely unfair from start to finish as Chairman Good refused to let it go over until Monday and give some of our ablest supporters a chance to get back here and vote on it. This item was prepared to make a wonderful fight but they cut his time down so that he only had five minutes. If the item could have been debated for an hour, we believe we might win. All other items were given all the time they wanted but our little $3,000,000 never got a show but we did succeed in getting a roll call vote which showed our friends were.

"Of course the bill was chased back to conference again and today they met and the senate conferees decided. We were able to get to our senators and they tried to get the senate to vote against the adoption of the conference report. There was almost two hours' discussion in the senate and it was mostly favorable to us. If Senator Lodge had stuck with us, we would have won and I am proud to say that the Maine and New Hampshire senators were with us to the end. We were defeated when on a roll call vote the conference report was adopted by a majority of only six votes.

"We were in constant touch with the Shipping Board, Navy Department and Army Transport Service. Mr. Stevens worked hard for us in a wholehearted manner but claimed a great deal depended on whether the boats were sold or not. In answer to a question he stated he thought that a great amount of work could be done on the Shipping Board fleet pending a decision on the part of congress as to whether the boats would be sold or not. He had a conference with Mr. Tague to see what could be done for Portsmouth. He will also see Secretary Daniels and ask him to assign some of the work to us at once.

"Many friends are also helping us in this matter and seem very anxious to get some work to Portsmouth but all that has come along so far has been too big to get in our dry dock. "We have seen officers in charge of overseas transportation service who stated that they will use the navy yards for the repair of transports as soon as they receive a letter from the secretary of the navy confirming their verbal agreement, so we traced that letter and found it had been sent over to the secretary of war, which fact we immediately reported to them and they promised to send for it at once so they could turn the transports into the navy yards for repair as soon as they were available.

"The Bureau of Operations succeeded in getting Secretary Daniels to send out a circular letter to all yards, instructing them to notify the department of any great reductions in the yard force. Thirty days prior to such reduction, we have seen a copy of this letter addressed to the Industrial Manager, Portsmouth, N. H., and trust he will take advantage of it and will also make formal application to the secretary of the navy requesting him to assign Shipping Board and transport work of a nature that our yard can handle, to Portsmouth. New York is making good on their work on the Calhoun, Martha Washington, and have been so well that the Bureau of Operations has assigned the assignment to that yard so the New York Naval Trades Council stands vindicated and commended for their attitude by the officers in charge down here and up.

"Whether we win the deficiency bill or not, your action in sending me to Washington has been proven to be more than justified.

"The Portsmouth Metal Trades Council has gained prestige and is highly commended by many of the people here for the rameness of their fight and we firmly believe the results of this trip will bring great prosperity to our yard in the near future.

"While I felt to a certain extent that I was isolated from you and your activities while here, still your telegraphic instructions to me made me feel that I had your confidence and support and I have never doubted that the majority of the workmen on the yard have been loyal and I only regret my own inability to show them what a great unselfish work they are doing by having some one here in these critical times. I assure you that money was never spent more wisely or to greater advantage."

BOYS CLUB SHOWS BIG RESULTS

Last fall, under the supervision of Miss Amy Sheldon and Mr. Frank Powell, a Boys' Club was organized in the southern section of the city for the boys of that district between the ages of ten and fourteen. Through the courtesy of the mayor, the South Ward room was assigned to this purpose, and the youngsters have been meeting twice a week for instruction in gymnastics, including wrestling and boxing, under the supervision of Walter Woods, as well as story-telling, and recreation in singing and dancing under the leadership of Miss Margaret B. Fettes and Miss Mildred Brown.

Last night the boys put on their best public performance in the shape of a parents' night, and despite the inclement weather, the hall was crowded with young people and their parents. Among the invited guests present were Mayor Hilsop, Mr. and Mrs. Chaney, Mr. W. S. Clayton, Rev. and Mrs. Thayer, R. Clyde Murken, Charles Walker, Miss Jessa McDanel and Charles Ernst. The following program was rendered by the boys: Orchestra selection, Whipple School Orchestra, led by Mr. Ernest Hilsop.

Opening remarks by the President of the Club—Randolph Churchill.

Minstrel Show—Mr. Powell, Interlocutor; Mr. Sweeney, Mr. O'Brien, and men; Messrs. McNabb, Palmer, Burke, Harris and Evans.

Solos by Robert Harris and Sam Palmer.

Orchestra selection.

Dumb Bell Drill, led by Mr. Walter Woods.

Plante Song—Forrest Pecunia, Frank Adams, John McDonald, Edwin Kay, Frederick Kay, Ernest Locke, Walter Sticks, Robert Sticks, Ellsworth Pierce.

Orchestra selection.

Address—Mayor Hilsop.

The Mayor expressed his surprise and gratification at the splendid gathering of young people, congratulating them on their talent and ability. In a few earnest words he emphasized those qualities which go to the making of good citizens—which was received with interest and applause—but when he offered to financially assist the boys in giving a dramatic performance at Maudie Hall, the proceeds to go toward a more adequate club building and equipment, the youngsters broke into wild applause, which was echoed in a quieter but none the less heartfelt manner by Miss Sheldon.

Refreshments were then served by the club to the guests of the evening, followed by dancing.

PROHIBITION IS PUTTING THE VIRGIN ISLANDS OUT OF BUSINESS

Washington, March 12.—Did prohibition all but put the Virgin Islands out of business? This is one of several questions to which the House Committee on Insular Affairs has been giving its attention since its trip of inspection a month ago. At St. Thomas, the principal island in the group, the committee was waited upon by a delegation of citizens, who protested that not a pound of coal had been received in months. They declared that vessels engaged in the South American and Gulf trade, which previously had called at St. Thomas to replenish their bunkers, were calling instead at the Barbados, that even the United States Shipping Board had ordered its vessels to avoid the island for which this country paid Denmark $25,000,000 three years ago.

The committee found upon investigation that the Virgin Islands scarcely had 200,000 tons of coal, and that, while few vessels were calling there, the Barbados were doing a rushing business. The members assured the business men that they would take up the matter at Washington, and a hearing resulted upon their arrival. Officials of the Shipping Board were requested to testify. No one seemed to know anything about the matter, except that all coal received at St. Thomas and at the Barbados came from American ports, principally New York, and that there was no reason why the British island should be favored and the American island slighted. Chairman Payne knew nothing about the matter, but ordered that 100,000 tons of coal be sent to St. Thomas.

The committee persisted in its investigation and called minor officials, who gave information that a minor official issued the order directing ships operated by the Shipping Board to call at the Barbados instead of at St. Thomas. One witness said coal could be obtained for seven cents a ton cheaper at the Barbados than at the American Islands. The committee could not understand how there could be any such difference in price, first, because the coal comes from the same source and is carried approximately the same distance, and, second, because coal at the Barbados has to be lightered, whereas at St. Thomas it is taken from the docks. Chairman Horace M. Tower of the committee requested the testimony of another witness that the order was issued at the request of masters of American ships who preferred to call at the British Islands, where prohibition is an unknown quantity rather than at the American Islands, where prohibition is being enforced.

Prohibition, the committee finds, is affecting the islands in other ways. The islands have produced considerable rum and hay run. Prohibition has knocked the rum trade into a cocked hat and has had an effect on the hay run trade, so that whereas the islands cost Denmark $160,000 a year to maintain, they are costing the United States about $250,000 a year. The committee believes, however, that within two or three years the islands will be self-supporting.

Among other things, the islands produce considerable sugar, and there is a change a day. The independent growers had an agreement with the so-called centrals group to sell at the current rate in New York city as reported each Saturday. The payments for weeks were on the basis of 8.25 cents a pound, the centrals, according to the committee, contributing to quote the Government price, which had ended several months before, making each week that the price quoted was the last Government price. At the time 8.25 cents was being paid, members of the committee say, the price in New York was really 13 and 14 cents a pound. The committee had a meeting with the centrals, at which it is said, the centrals agreed to pay at the current price from that date and to make up the difference on all back payments.

After solving the rum and sugar problems, the committee will turn its attention to the currency situation on the islands. The system established by Denmark still is effective, and the Danes, who conduct most of the business on the islands declare that under the treaty it cannot be changed. Danish currency is at 23 per cent discount.

JURY NOT IN SYMPATHY WITH DRY ACT

Boston, March 12.—The federal grand jury, in its report to Judge Morton, in the federal district court, this afternoon, took a line at the Volstead act by refusing to indict eight defendants arrested on charges of violating the prohibition law by unlawfully transporting liquor or having it in their possession illegally. All were arrested as a result of personal search by officers.

The eight are George W. Brown, George H. Sullivan, William H. Sullivan, James P. Flynn, Frank O'Brien all charged with having liquor in their possession unlawfully; Louis A. Aumshain and Saki Koechepin, charged with illegal transportation; and Martin A. Fleming, charged with transportation and possession. No bills were returned in all cases.

Brown, who is a Pullman porter, was arrested because an officer seized the liquor on his breath and searched him, finding a quart of whiskey and another quart bottle partly full. The Sullivan, who are brothers, were arrested by police in the back bay Sunday afternoon, while on their way to an American Legion meeting. Officers searched them and found liquor. The other cases are of a similar nature.

This action on the part of the grand jurors follows along the line of procedure adopted by United States Commissioner Hayes, who recently discharged two men arrested under like conditions. The commissioner maintained that officers had no right to search the person before an arrest.

Commissioner Hayes maintained his position again today by discharging Charles Jacobson of 3 Beidler avenue South Boston, who was stopped on the street and made to open his bag, in which officers found liquor.

POLICE COURT

Walter J. Renton, a former employee of the ship yard was the defendant in the municipal court today on a charge of larceny. He admitted the same. With several other ship yard workers he roomed on High street and when he left there a few days ago he took clothing valued at $100 or more from two other lodgers. When arrested in Providence he was wearing the stolen clothing. He told the court he was sorry for appropriating the property of the other men and that it was foolish work on his part. The court held him for the grand jury with bail set at $500. He was unable to secure the necessary money for his release.
